SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

How many of us live lives of peace? And by peace do we mean absence of strife? Or the peace that Christ gives? The peace that Christ gives is not only for those disciples in the New Testament, it is for us. The relationship we have with Christ means that we do not look to outside forces or external sources for validation. Our worth and sense of self is not measured by a job, position, house, children, family, retirement plan, or the praise of others. Instead, our peace and well-being come from Christ himself. That peace and security can never be taken away. We are no longer subject of the whims of others, the hazards of the world, or the vagaries of passing fancies. Regardless of our condition in life, we have something fundamental at our core that is a gift. Let us rest in the knowledge that we have been given the gift of peace that comes from Christ himself.
