SEVENTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

We live in the world but are not of the world. Such is Christian identity, as it is rooted in Jesus' identity. God so loved the world that He gave His only son. But He called those who were His own in the world. The son came for us; we have been chosen.

When we feel called by the allure of the world, let us recall that the world is only a temporary home for us. A bright future awaits where love reigns and glory is resplendent.

The night before He died, Jesus prayed for us and for all those who were chosen by God. Rather than make us smug, this knowledge should humble us and cause us to emulate Him who came to serve rather than be served.

For Jesus in the Gospel of John, the Crucifixion is the lifting up, the exaltation of the Son of God. With eyes of faith, let us see anew and reorient our lives.
